TROOPS AND BAND MAY BE IN OGDEN

Soldiers of Fort Douglas Invited to Participate in the Industrial Parade of the Fashion Show — Joseph H. Thomas, Head of the Automobile Parade Sends Out a Letter to Owners of Autos

Much enthusiasm prevailed and great progress was reported by the Fashion Show committee during the meeting held at the Weber club this afternoon. The baby show and street decoration committees reported plans complete. All others, including the automobile and industrial parade committees, reported that the plans are coming to a successful conclusion.

President B. F. Redman, of the Rotary club of Salt Lake, and the chairman of the Wizard of the Wasatch carnival, was present and offered a wealth of suggestions that the committees accepted with thanks. Mr.
Redman also offered the use of several floats and it is probable that many of these will be accepted.

Chairman W. E. Sanderson welcomed Mr. Redman with a short address in which he said the committee appreciates his interest in the Ogden carnival and he extended an invitation to Mr. Redman and Salt Lake to participate.

In reply, Mr. Redman declared that he would personally see to it that a large delegation of Salt Lake boosters attend the carnival.

The contract for the street decora-

Salt Lake during the recent carnival.
According to the plans, the decorations will extend on Washington avenue from Twenty-second to Twenty-sixth streets and on Twenty-fifth street from Washington to the depot.
In addition, Twenty-fourth street will be decorated from Washington to Hudson and Hudson will be strung with streamers from Twenty-fourth to Twenty-fifth.

A committee is to call on Colonel Perkins at Fort Douglas to ask for the troops and band in the industrial parade. The national guard and high school cadets will also be invited to participate.

Chairman J. H. Thomas of the automobile parade is sending out the following letter:

"To the Automobilists of Ogden and vicinity: Will you aid us in making the automobile parade of Og-den's Second Annual Fashion show a success?"

"The parade last year was one of the special features of the two days celebration and the parade this year will be far more elaborate and extensive than last. We want you to assist us in this matter and extend to you a hearty invitation to participate. May we hear from you? Respectfully, J. H. Thomas, chairman, parade committee."

C. Wardleigh left today in a special car over the Denver & Rio Grande.
In the car, which will go direct to the convention city, were delegates from Idaho and from other Utah cities.

Depart for Boston—Mrs. Frank Fouts and Miss Eva Fouts left today over the Rio Grande for Boston. Miss Fouts is to register in the Bradford academy of Boston.

LETTER URGING FARMERS TO EXHIBIT

Ogden manufacturers and jobbers will exhibit individually at the Utah State fair and the county commissioners may devise steps to insure an exhibit of Weber county products.

A meeting of the advisory board, city and county commissioners and others was held at the Weber club last night when the proposition of exhibiting at the fair was discussed and the willingness and determination of local manufacturers to exhibit at their own expense were announced.

Dr. H. M. Rows was selected to look after the livestock exhibit from Weber county and Roy Rasmussen, county horticultural inspector, will be in charge of the horticultural exhibit.

A. P. Bigelow acted as chairman of the meeting. Others present were M.
S. Browning, Judge H. H. Rolapp, Mayor A. G. Fall, Commissioner T. S.
Browning, County Commissioners Moroni Sken and John T. Bybee, and Ralph Bristol, vice president of the Weber club. Other meetings will be held soon to take up the subject of funds.

In discussing the situation Mr.
Bigelow said today:

"There is the general impression that the Utah State fair is a Salt Lake institution but that is not the case. It is a Utah proposition and Weber county should be represented as well as other counties. When we had our own fair, our interests were centered at home. Now that we have no Ogden fair, we should exhibit in the fair of all Utah. There has been opposition to such an exhibit but once we get enough enthusiasm among a party of leaders, it is expected that arrangements will be made whereby Weber will always be strongly represented."

The following letter is being sent out to farmers and others:

"To Manufacturers, Fruit Growers, Agriculturalists, and Stock Raisers of Ogden and of Weber County—

"We have been requested by the Governor and Directors of the State Fair Association to encourage the citizens of Weber County to make an exhibit both for the county and individually at the Fair this year.

"Of course in previous years when we had a Four-State Fair in Ogden our efforts in this direction were centered at home, but inasmuch as the Four-State Fair will not be held this year, it is only just and proper that Weber County should take its proper place among the other counties at the State Fair, and in so doing, for get any prejudices and unpleasantness that may have existed when the two fairs were on a competitive basis.

"At a meeting held at the Weber club today, at which the County Commissioners were represented as well as the Ogden City Commission and Weber Club, it was determined to ask our citizens, and particularly the manufacturers, to take advantage of the possibilities of an exhibit at the State Fair and it was the sense of this meeting that the Weber Club be directed to urge upon you the necessity of taking advantage of this opportunity.

"Now that we are to take our proper place along with the other counties of the state at the fair, will you not join hands with us and assist us in every way possible to make the position of Weber County all that it should be—in fact, the very best display at the Fair. Very respectfully, (Signed) A. P. BIGELOW, chairman, Weber County Advisory Board.

"P. S. Representatives will see you at an early date but do not wait. Apply for space now."

BOMB WRECKS CHICAGO BANK

Chicago, Sept. 10.—More than twenty persons were injured, three buildings were partly wrecked and windows within a radius of half a mile were shattered early today by the explosion of a bomb in the doorway of the private bank of Alexander Conforti, 912 South Halsted street.

Tony Digraza, a watchman, was found sound asleep in a room in the rear and was awakened with difficulty.

The explosion is believed by the police to be the work of blackmailers.
Conforti admitted that a year ago he received three letters demanding $7,- 000, but said he ignored them.

Conforti's office was demolished but a safe which contained several thousand dollars withstood the blast.
The gas mains were broken and the fumes prevented firemen from approaching the blaze until an emergency crew wearing oxygen helmets arrived.

SURVEYORS TO MARK DEPOT SITE

Surveyors from Salt Lake are expected in Ogden today and mark the site of the Denver & Rio Grande freight station, the contract for which was recently awarded to the Continental Contracting company of Ogden.

While the contract price was in the neighborhood of $35,000, Agent Frank Fouts of the railroad company states that the material to be supplied by the railroad company will bring the cost of the depot to $60,000.

The contractors are ready to put excavators to work as soon as the railroad surveyors have staked out the site.

CORN GROWN ON BOX ELDER DRY FARM

Chief W. I. Norton returned last evening from a visit to his ranch in Box Elder county and brought with him some remarkable specimens of corn grown on a dry farm. Some of the ears are 14 inches in length and the stalks stand about 10 feet in height. The ears are perfect and are filled with large kernels. Twenty acres of the dry farm are planted in corn and the yield is expected to reach fifty bushels to the acre.

On the dry farm where the corn was grown it is necessary to dig 30 feet to reach water for drinking and household purposes.

Mrs. Grace Russell Bartlett entertained fifteen guests last evening in compliance to Dr. Frank K. Bartlett of Chicago and Miss Mary Paxton, graduate nurse of Presbyterian hospital of Chicago.

Dr. Bartlett graduated from Rush medical college and has practiced one year. He will return to Chicago shortly where he will take a postgraduate course at St. Luke's hospital. A pleasant musical evening and the serving of a tempting menu were enjoyed.

SURPRISE PARTY
A pleasant surprise was given Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Larson, 350 Eighteenth street, Tuesday night, in honor of Mr. Larson who is about to depart on a mission to Sweden.

A handsome umbrella and other gifts were given him in token of esteem by his friends. The evening was spent in speeches, songs and games. Lunch was served in the dining room, which was profusely decorated with flowers.

The guests were:
Messrs. and Mesdames G. Barker,

END THE LOBBY INVESTIGATION

Washington, Sept. 10.—Cross-examination of James A. Emery today concluded the house lobby committee's investigation of the alleged influence of the National Association of Manufacturers with legislation, and preparations were made to begin the probe into the so-called labor lobby.
President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, was summoned for late today.

Emery referred to a recent published statement by Gompers that labor had elected sixteen men to congress and put one man in the president's cabinet.

"If the National Association of Manufacturers claimed that it had elected five men to congress," said Emery, "the front page of every journal in the country would have a hemorrhage tomorrow morning."

FIRE DESTROYS 300 COTTAGES

Salisbury Beach, Mass., Sept. 10.— A chill northeast wind, whipping in from Massachusetts Bay early today found 200 vacationists shivering under scanty covering on Salisbury beach. Clad in thin clothing, men, women and children had stood through all night over the few belongings they were able to rescue from the fire that devastated the summer resort.

Heaps of smoking ruins were all that remained today of nearly 300 cottages and seven hotels that were in the path of the flames. Rumors of coming arrests and a state police investigation were current. Early today a squad of police arrived from Haverhill.

Officials were apparently satisfied that a second fire which broke out shortly after midnight at the southern end of the beach was of incendiary origin.

Conservative estimates this morning place the loss from the fire at $150,000.

Nickle Plate Shops Burned.
Chicago, Sept. 10.—The machine and boiler shops of the Nickel Plate railroad at Stony Island avenue and Ninety-first streets were destroyed by fire today. The loss may reach $500,000.

THE SPANISH BULL RING.
Whatever one's views may be in reference to bull fighting, there is one feature of the national sport of Spain which is particularly interesting to the visitor and sightseer. The bulls for the arena are usually kept in large paddocks, wild and unfettered —for, as Sir Albert Rolit, who has visited one of these paddocks near Seville, says, "The animals know nothing of ropes or chains during their lifetime."

It is a dangerous business, however, entering these paddocks. Sir Albert stood some fifty paces from the bulls, and in his interesting letter describing the scene, published in Country Life, says: "We entered with our lives in our hands."

The bulls, however, are kept in order by a cordon of tame oxen, which, if a bull attempts to escape, at once prevents it doing so, acting skillfully and effectively as a species of bovine police.

"The night before the spectacle in the bull ring at Seville," he quote Sir Albert, "the bulls are driven, still quite at large, by picadors along the boulevards, intermixed with the oxen and restrained only by them. On my asking if there must not be danger to the public using the boulevard, the reply was that occasionally a bull might hide in the bushes of the central gardens and fall foul of a workman in the morning, but such incidents did not seem to be regarded as matters of much importance compared with the popularity of the national amusement. At times many of the aristocracy and others of both sexes ride horseback in advance of the bulls, which is regarded as fine but rather dangerous sport."

"When at or near, midnight the bulls thus enter the bull ring, the scene is one of great turmoil, noise, and excitement. In rush the driven animals, bulls and oxen, helter-skelter, a motley crowd of men and beasts, a veritable pandemonium. The last scene is most interesting of all.
Stables with open doors encompass the arena, in front of each of which is a sliding door and at the back a lighted lantern. These lanterns the bulls make for one after another, smashing them and extinguishing the lights, and, as each light is observed by an attendant to be put out, he slips down the door of the stable and the bull is thus engaged and ready for the Spanish holiday of the morrow.

Successively the lights disappear, and when all are out and the doors of the stables closed the police oxen are driven out of the bull ring to return to their more peaceful paddocks, and to render similar service to other bulls and other devotees of the bull ring."—London Tit-Bits.

SPURIOUS AMERICANISMS.

The manufacture of spurious Americanisms has never ceased to continue.
In words assumed without reason to be distinctive of this country, our earliest vocabularies abounded. Nor have they been absent from the latest, though with the progress of time and the advance of knowledge they have been steadily becoming fewer. Nevertheless, old examples are liable to turn up at any time in unexpected quarters, and new ones are occasionally added to the list. In the latest and sanest of dictionaries of Americanisms, author in the sense of "editor" is enrolled. "It is no doubt American and obsolete," says the compiler.
Obsolete it assuredly is. But what authority is there for asserting it to be an Americanism, it may be asked.

The reason given is that in this sense it is not found in the new Historical English dictionary. Such an extrandinary inference is a curiously belated survival of faith in the omniscience of lexicographers which once prevailed widely. As a matter of fact, author meaning "editor" was for a long time a fully authorized word in English.
It is no more an Americanism than is the latter in its present sense of comparatively late introduction into the language. Editors of periodical publications of all sorts are now born with us almost every day; but it took more than a century to evolve the term specifically denoting them. One has only to turn over the files of eighteenth century newspapers and magazines to become fully aware that the mysterious being who presided over these publications was then regularly designated as the "author." It was to "the author" that communications in the newspapers were addressed. Such was the title under which he continued to flourish for decades.—Thomas R. Lounsbury, in Harper's Magazine.

REMOVES A COLLECTOR

John B. Elliott succeeds Pendleton as Customs Officer at Los Angeles — President Sends Nomination to Senate.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Collector of Customs Pendleton at Los Angeles, Cal., was dismissed today by Secretary McAdoo because he refused to resign. John B. Elliott of Los Angeles, will be nominated to succeed him. Pendleton claimed he had been appointed for a definite term, which he should be permitted to serve.
Later today President Wilson sent John B. Elliott's nomination to the senate.

'BIG TIM' SULLIVAN IS STILL MISSING

New York, Sept. 10.—Congressman "Big Tim" Sullivan, who disappeared from his brother's home a week ago yesterday with only a dollar in his pocket, was still missing this afternoon. A report that he had been found today at a hotel in Smithtown, Long Island, proved unfounded. His friends were anxious, as he has not recovered from a mental breakdown of a year ago.

A MATTER OF TASTE

He—I never see your great friend the Baroness with you now. Have you quarreled?
She—Oh, no, but our frocks don't go well together just at present, so we are careful never to be seen with each other.—Filegande Blatter.

SOMETIMES LESS

"Twice did Smith refuse to take a drink on conscientious grounds.
Then the third time he should have felt justified in taking one."
"Why so?"
"Because three scruples make one dram."—Baltimore American.
